

Gigaset 2000C pocket

High End convenience handset for mobile applications

Implementation: Home, Small office /
Home office
Public DECT-
Networks
DECT behind PBX

Standards: DECT
GAP (Generic
Access Profile)

Differences compared to Gigaset 2000C:

- Miniaturization
- External antenna
- Illuminated mobile-phone-like buttons
- NiMH-accu-pack
- No headset interface

Main features:

- Illuminated 4-line graphical display with display of battery charging status
- Easy-to-use menu prompts
- Directory for approx. 100 entries
- Directory entries can be transferred between 2000C convenience handsets
- Message Waiting Indication
- Short cuts, Net-services
- 5 last number redials
- Block dialling with revision option
- Various setting options: e.g. Auto Talk, ringer options, handset volume, beeps, ...
- Room monitoring
- DECT emergency call feature

Technical Data:

- Weight: approx. 125 g with accu-pack
- Volume: approx. 137*43*20mm
- Talktime: up to 9 hours
- Standby: up to 90 hours
- Accu-pack: NiMH, 880 mAh
- Range: like Gigaset 2000C

Accessories:

- Desktop charger Gigaset 2000L pocket